

Description générale

Ethambutol is a medication primarily used to treat tuberculosis. It is often given in combination with other tuberculosis medications, such as isoniazid, rifampicin and pyrazinamide.

|                            |                                                                                                                                          |
|----------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| INN                        | Ethambutol                                                                                                                               |
| Codes ATC                  | J04AK02                                                                                                                                  |
| Type de médicament         | Chemical agent                                                                                                                           |
| Historique des statuts LME | Ajouté pour la première fois en 1977 (TRS 615) pour TuberculosisDemande refusée en 2021 (TRS 1035) pour Other specified tuberculosis |
| Wikipédia                  | Ethambutol                              |
| DrugBank                   | Ethambutol                              |

Recommandations

Section     Antituberculosis medicines

Oral > Solid: 100 mg (hydrochloride); 400 mg (hydrochloride); 100 mg tablet (dispersible)
Parenteral > General injections > IV: 1000 mg per 10 mL; 2000 mg per 20 mL

Indications

- Tuberculosis
- Other specified tuberculosis

