

Description générale

|                               |                                                                                                             |
|-------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| INN                           | Tacrolimus                                                                                                  |
| Codes ATC                     | L04AD02                                                                                                     |
| Type de médicament            | Chemical agent                                                                                              |
| Historique des statuts LME    | Ajouté pour la première fois en 2021 (TRS 1035) pour Failure or rejection of transplanted organs or tissues |
| Équivalent thérapeutique pour |                                                                                                             |
| Wikipédia                     | Tacrolimus ↗                                                                                                |
| DrugBank                      | Tacrolimus ↗                                                                                                |

Recommandations

Section      Immunomodulators for non-malignant disease

Parenteral > General injections > IV: 5 mg per mL in 1 mL vial
Oral > Liquid: 0.2 mg granules for oral suspension; 1 mg granules for oral suspension
Oral > Solid: 0.5 mg (immediate-release); 0.75 mg (immediate-release); 1 mg (immediate-release); 2 mg (immediate-release); 5 mg (immediate-release)

Indications

Failure or rejection of transplanted organs or tissues

